RG104 E-1 Box 149

Mint of the United States at Philadelphia, Pa.,

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,

Dec. 5, 1884.

Dear Mr. Fox—

My attention has been called to a practice (now becoming common) of employes gathering for conversation and reading the papers in the shipping room.

This practice can hardly be allowed longer, for reasons which will occur to you. Will you please cause to be made, and posted in that room, a placard prohibiting such frequentings on the part of "strangers," or persons not having business in that room, and much oblige

Yours truly

A. Loudon

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 149

Mint of the United States at Philadelphia, Pa.,
Superintendent's Office,
December 5, 1887

Dear Mr. Fox –

My attention has been called to a practice (now becoming common) of employees gathering for conversation and reading the papers in the Shipping Room.

This practice can hardly be allowed longer, for reasons which will occur to you. Will you please cause to be made, and posted in that room, a placard prohibiting such frequenting on the part of "strangers" or persons not having business in that room, and much oblige.

Yours truly,
M.H. Cobb